

Renaissance Historical Dance Society

RHDS are a historical dance society that specialises in bringing to life, the dances and crafts of Mediæval, Elizabethan, Stuart and Regency England.

Dances are produced and designed to provide both spectacle and information. Public workshops will give your visitors the chance to learn and participate.

We are able to provide your event with a unique level of authenticity and interactivity. This will ensure your visitors will enjoy the experience and leave with a greater understanding of what it was really like to live, dance and play in past times.

Photo: Ann Easley, 2003

Photo: Renaissance 2005

Fancy your hand at being an archer or making pomanders or lace.

We can provide your visitors with competent guides who will lead them safely through the learning of these fine historical crafts. Fan making and storytelling are also some of the numerous historical crafts we can bring to you and your visitors.

Chat to our own Tudor doctor or discover how herbs have been used through our history.

Whatever your event, the Renaissance Historical Dance Society (RHDS) can offer your visitors the chance to enjoy our rich historical past through dance and craft.

If you'd like to know more, call us on:

+44 (0)1752 404939

Or email us at: Info@rhds.org.uk

Please visit our website for more information at : <http://www.rhds.org.uk>

Photo: Tom Teegan 2005